"Friendly stuff, tasty doner. Didn't like that cooker does not use gloves, so it is possible direct contact between cash and your food. Also almost did not find cheese inside my cheesy doner. Please, bring more variety of meat doner. Some mixes with chicken and olives or beef and tasty sauce."

"What a joy. I was being grumpy and my daughter needed a pee so we stopped in for chips. We had great chips and then the lovely man popped out the shop having friendly banter with my daughter as he went past. He came back and gave her a sweetie. She was delighted, I was cheered up and well fed from our large portions. I will be back."

"They had no idea what glutenfree means. The waiter thought I want vegan food. I am celiac and I made a bad mistake. I trusted when they finally say that one portion was gluten free. I took that one... and next day I was sure the waiter truly didn't have a clue what gluten means. I don't recommend this restaurant if you have any allergies or celiac. Another thing to note: We went this restaurant on friday evening 21:00. There was many customer very drunk and it really had an effect on the atmosphere."

"We made an order at home, specifying the things we did not want them to bring and they brought us what they wanted. Besides, the problem comes when I call to inform them of the error and they have nothing else to say that they have not made a mistake and that the error is ours, so we are left with what we have... What mistake does a client have?"

We found this place because we know Turkish cuisine has a lot to offer and boy oh boy was it good. Two huge meals with drinks and snacks on the side cost us a mere 13€! Definitely recommended if you want good food and a good price."*
